Video Collaboration Extended Warranty

Extended hardware warranties protect your investment in Logitech conference room systems by ensuring you can get replacement parts for up to five years from purchase.

Purchasing an extended warranty¹ offers security and peace of mind that come with knowing your Logitech video collaboration room systems and devices are protected against defects. Extended warranties are available for either one year or three years beyond the original Logitech manufacturer's two-year warranty, providing in total up to five years of protection from the purchase date.

Extended hardware warranties are available for Microsoft Teams, Zoom Rooms, and Google Meet bundles as well as standalone conference cameras and appliance solutions from Logitech.

Logitech video collaboration extended warranty

Purchase your one-year or three-year extended warranty at the time you purchase Logitech video conference room systems — including Microsoft Teams, Zoom Rooms, and Google Meet bundles as well as standalone conference cameras, appliance solutions, and other workspace solutions.
